UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT-Out, 26—Before Judge Barrs.

The United States agt, John McGentry—Opening letter; 21 fine, and to be lapprisued three muchs.

The United States agt, Francis Brown and John Revrees—Revolt and mutiny; 415 fine, and to be imprisoned at hard labor 60 days.

In the case of the slaver Merchant, before this Court some weeks ago, José Santos, one of the three defections who had been admitted to ball, could not be found. The District Attorney, who wished to by all three together, therefore allowed the nase to be dismissed as to the other two defendants.

This morning, Mr. Santos voluntarily appeared, and was admitted to ball again in the sum of 41,500. He stated as the reson of his previous absence, that he wished to have a separate trial, which he could not have got had he appeared with the ether defendants. They are now out of the reach of the Court, and Santos will therefore be tried alone. He claims that the evidence against him is very different from tout sgainst the two persons implicated with him.

KINGS COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT—Special Trans—Oct 26.—Before Judge Bindseys.

In the matter of the application of William B. Lewis, Controller, &c., agt. the Mechanics' Bank of the City of Williamstorgh.

This was an application on the part of said Lewis,

This was an application on the part of said Lewis, as Controller of the city of Brooklyn, for an order to show cause why the said bank should not be dealered insolvent, are enter appointed, and an injunction order issue restraining the efficiency of said bank from performing any ast or making assignment of the property of said bank.

The facts set forth in the effidivition which the application is made are. That the Mechanics' Bank of Withiansourch is a corporate institution, and transacting the banking baciess in the City of Williamsburgh, now Brooklyn; that on the 2th day of October, 1855, there was deposited in the said bank by Abraham J Berry, John Berry and George C. Repley, the Supervisors and Overseors of the Foor of Williamsburgh, the sum of $14.64.81 is of the public money of Williamsburgh, on the arrangement that the said sum or any part thereof should be paid on demand, with interest at the rast of 4 each per annum that the City of Brooklyn is the legal successor of the City of Williamsburgh, and is entitled to sunk sum, with interest; that a part of the raid sum due the said city on account of such deposit has been demanded on the 19th inst, and payment refused; and is informed and helieves that the said Bank or Association dees not redeem its bills payable when requested.

Brat was made upon the bank by the City Tresurer C. C. Smith, on the 3th of October, for $6,000, and payment thereof refused.

Application was made to Judge Birdseye for an order to show refused.

Application was made to Judge Birdseye for an order to show cause why the bank should not be declared insulvent and a receiver appointed, which order was granted and came up for argument yesterday afternoon.

Mr. James Campbell appeared for patitioner, and moved the appointment of a Receiver.

The Hon. John A. Lott appeared for the bank and opposed the motion for the Receiver and set up as a defense way the money should not be paid to the City of Brocklyn, a statement of facts showing the manner in which the fund accumulated and the position held by the bank. This money twas the proceeds of the sale of wamp lands in the town of Bushwick in 1853, before Williamsburgh became a city, and was deposited by the Supervisor and Overseer of the Poor of said town. He contended that until it should be decided by legislative action or by a suit at law to whom or for what purpose the money should be applied, the bank should not be compelled to pay the same under a pennity of being declared insolvent.

Mr. Campbell contended that the agme, of right, belonged to the City of Brooklyn by the articles of consolidation, and should be paid over. He contended that he agme, of right, belonged to the City of Brooklyn by the articles of consolidation, and should be paid over. He contended that he good defense had been shown in the case, and that, under the law, of 1843, the Court what in that case take the summary proceedings embraced in the case.

The court held that under the act of 1843 he was bound to cer-tify that a good defense had been shown why the money should not be paid on this demand. This was not such a question as sught to be presented under the act of 1849. It was a ques-tion which should be presented by the city in a suit to estavish a clear and legal right to this money. The Court took the papers, reserving the final desision until further consideration was had.

"The woolen mill of Edward S. Hall, in Millville, is running full time, and has been through the pressure. Hall & Scott, Millville, are intending to stop zeons on account of an early removal to the new mills in Oxford. The woolen mills of Bradford & Taft, in Waterford, are running full time, but at reduced wages. There is a prospect that all the mile in Borrivile will be compelled to suspend operations. In Woorsocket, the wages of operatives have been everywhere reduced. The cotton mills are all running easts time, and the Globe, which has till this time been keet in full operation, will suspend operations wholly for the 'Hundreds of men now throng our streets who have been thrown out of employment by the discontinuance of work upon the unfinished portion of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railway. The want of funds is the cause of this sudden halt in the progress of the road, and its consequences must be seriously felt by those who are thus deprived of their only means of support. The President and Directors feel quite confident that they will have money to pay up arrearages, and to complete the work about the lat of next month. It is to be hoped that they will not be disappointed."

The water has subsided in the Genesce to a stage that admits of milling operations on the upper raneway. Nearly all the mills are now in fall loperation, with aboutlance of water and sufficient stocks of wheat.

The Providence Trebune, 36th inst., says:

"We hear of numerous mills and mechanical establishments that have been running on short time, but which have now stopped entirely, throwing out of employment a great many people. No one is willing to enter into new engagements, or to trust his property to the chances of commercial credit; and with the prospect of a still greater decline in the raw material, nobody wishes to pile up goods."

Hard Trues in Wilmixgron.—As a sign of the hardness of the times, we are informed that there are upward of sixty vessels now lying in our port, owing to the difficulty of getting freight abroad. This is the largest number that has been in our port for some time. (Wilmington (N. C.) Chroniele, Saturday.

We learn from The Chicago Tribune that that paper and three o hers of the large sized Unicago dailies The Journal, Press and Democrat, are talking seriously of reducing their pages one column each during the Winter, as advertising is very light, and the publishers are not disposed to provide a larger space for advertisers than they require. This is a confession of the extent to which the financial troubles affect the newspapers in common with every other branch of business in Caicago.

Decrease of Frenchts and Travel, on RaitRoads.—On the Camden and Amboy Railroat through freights to the South and West, of dry goods and merchandise, had fallen off during October, as compared with the three weeks of the same month last compared with the three weeks of the same month isy-year, about 20 per cent, as near as they can judge in anticipation of the monthly accounts. The freights inward, for the first eighteen days of October, have fallen off about 15 per cent. In the passet ger busi-ness, the receip's for October will be about equal to last year. The Stock market this morning was very dull and regular, with a downward tendency in the fauties, The movement was smaller than the market has exhibited for many days, as d speculation appeared to be almost entirely dormant. There was a fair demand for State stocks and railroad boads, with a firm market. Between the Boards and at the Second Heard a better feeling sprung up, and a considerable advance took place in the active stocks. New-York Central went to 60, having been 581; Realing to 26, from 242; Erie to 92 from 9; Illinois Central, under foreign orders, to 804, from 78; Michigan Southern Guaranteed to 191, &c., all showing higher figures than on Saturday. After the Board there was a reaction of i to | P cent in Central, Reading, &t., and the market closed duil. There was nothing done in bank etocks to-day, excepting a sale of 20 shares Nassau Bank at 61. Illinois Central bonds were is demand, on orders received by the Bakic, and improved to 67 ], having been 64 on Saturday. Eries, 1862, sold at 25; 1883, at 491; New York Central de, 70; Goshen Line, 47; &c. The sales of State stocks reach $69,000 at steady prices, and in some cases at an advance.

The foreign Exchange market is better, and the range for Sterling is given from par to 106, with no standard names below 103. There is great caution now exhibited in taking bills, and wide differences are made between strictly first class and other signatures. A large line of strictly A No. 1 bills was placed to day att he highest rate named above.

The Bank statement for the week, the second week of suspension, is as favorable as could be anticipated, and shows a considerable accession of specie strength. The Banks have recovered to within a million of the amount they had three weeks since, before the drain became a panic, and have in addition over three millions of State currency filling the office of specie at the Clearing House. The increase in the specie average is $2,579,517, and the banks have probably an enlargement of nearly six millions of cash strength, including State carretcy. The actual specie in bank to-night doubtless reaches eleven and a half millions. The decrease in loans, is $1,110,211, the expansion of the strong banks not having been sufficient to counter-act the necessary contraction of the weak ones, and bring up the declining average of last week. The Metropolitan shows an increase of $300,000; and both this bank and the American Exchange would have shown a larger increase but for the payment of loans to them by interior banks which had been assisted by them. The circulation shows a decrease of over $1,100,000, which has been displaced by State currency. The increase of deposits is very large, being nominally $1,889,340 but are actually larger. The undrawn deposits are $47,874,000 against $42,637,000, showing an increase of $5,177,000. This large increase is mainly due to the State carrency system of deposit. The largest increase has been in the American Exchange and Metropolitan Banks-over $700,000 in each. The Grocers' Bank makes no statement this week. The comparison with last week is as follows:

The foreign advices are locked upon as indicating for the francial disasters in Eccland and France, and further fit ancial disasters in England and France, and as less unfavorable for this country than for home interests. The non-receipt of remittances from this side will undoubtedly cause many failures; but the English public did not seem to comprehend the extent to which the revulsion would extend in this country, and, under the impression that the depression in our stock market would be but temporary, have sent out very considerable orders by the Battic for our securities, some of which have been executed. It is suggested that the last advance in the rate of interest by the Bank was based upon advices by the Persia, which left here on the 30th of September, that our banks would suspend specie payment. No one could have known, however, at that time, that such would be the result, and the movement by the Bank of Eagland was no doubt the enforced result of events at home. We hear of no important bills returned by the Baltic, but much anxiety is felt in regard to the effect upon financial matters of the intelligence which went from here by the steamer of the 15th inst. We stated some weeks ago that the State Treasurer of North Carolina had offered to pay at once the interest due on the public debt of that State on the lat of January next, if the owners of the coupons chose to accept North Carolina currency in payment. If parties prefer to wait until the coupons mature, they will receive their money, as stipulated, at the Bank of the Republic in this city.

The market is very heavy for bullion. The supply in excess of the demand, and the rates of premium have declined to 121 P cent. An adjourned meeting of the stock and bondholders and the friends of the Eric Road will be held at the Mercautile Library, on the 28th, at 7 p. m. The quantity of flour, wheat, corn and barley, left at tide-water, during the third week in October, in the years 1856 and 1857, is as follows:

A remarkable peculiarity of the crisis through which we have been passing is developed in its crush. ing visitation upon business men whose strength has heretofore been deemed impregnable, and whose resources were considered equal to almost any emergency. Men of wealth, of high mercantile standing. and of undoubted sagacity and business intelligence, have been among the first to feel the force of a whirlwind which has swept away the frail structure of our credit system with resistless force. There has been no chance of escape, no matter how much real property a man could show—whother possessed of an extra million of dollars in real estate, or as much in merchandise or promissory notes and book accounts, or added up in the recent value of stocks or bonds. Nothing has availed to save from discredit but resources at once available in money. Such a sudden, complete and overwhelming change has never been exampled in the commercial history of this country; such an entire revolution in the estimation of values has never been witnessed here, if in any country. The broad fields of the great West teem with a superabundant barvest, the South is rich in its annual products, and the tide of progress has been plainly visible throughout the length and breadth of the land. But in the midst of plenty we are suddenly in want, and overflowing with wealth we are stricken with poverty, settling down upon all classes like a paralysis.

It may be useless at the present moment to specuate upon the causes; it will be more profitable to turn attention to the remedies, or at least to such matters as may contribute to an alleviation of our troubles, pending a more permacent recovery.

One of these remedies was suggested in our last, viz: that which every intelligent merchant will resngnize se a necessity of the times - a relaxation and forbearance in settlements, which will conform to the altered position of thirgs-a general disposition to grant time and facilities for recuperation; time in which the shattered fortunes of the sufferers may be repaired, and if possible made whole again-time erough, in short, to enable men to collect their dues, that they in turn may pay their debts. Whoever hesitates to do this, in cases where debtors can make clean statements, if allowed the privilege of time to make them available, and to prevent unreasonable sacrifice, deserves to lose the debt which he clings to so pertinacionsly. It may be that some, taking advantage of the fashion of asking accommodation, will endeavor to saddle their creditors with loads which they themselves are well able to bear; but these instances are rare, as d there can be little or no difficulty in discriminating between those who are desirous of paying up their ob igntions as soon as practicable, and those who merely wish to avoid making an effort to meet business engagements. Most of our merchants are high-toned, honorable men, whose pride and pleasure it is to pay promptly and in full, and it will be found that in the majority of cases their exertions to make assets available to pay their just debts will be redoubled during the period which generous and intelligent creditors will extend to them. In point of fact, so desirous are men who encounter trouble to escape speedily from their mortifying positions that they are inclined to ask too short an indulgence. An extension of thirty, sixty or ninety days, in ordinary cases, when perhaps the parties expect to make collections in distant sections of the country, is altogether too brief to accomplish the object. Our crop movement is tardy. The whole system of domestic as well as foreign exchanges is under extraordinary embarasement and derangement, and it will require menths to get the machinery fairly started again, before collection can be made to any extent. It is idle to attempt this great labor of restoration in one month or two menths; it is a work of six months, if not a year.

It is consequently incumbent upon all concerns struggling under the difficulties which are so widespread and deeply seated, to look carefully at all the chances and to calculate all the changes, and for their cwn safety, as well as for that of their creditors, to demard firmly and respectfully such consideration and indulgence as the case may actually require; and it is equally incumbent upon creditors who desire to enable their debters to fulfill new engagements, to extend unhesitatingly and kindly that accommodation which is essential to accomplish the object desired; otherwise, both creditors and debtors will pursue a phantem and perhaps lose the substance.

At Philadelphia there is no new feature in the Money market; the Banks are doing but little in the way new business, being mostly employed in renewing paper now maturing, where the security is ample. The street rates for money are unchanged, but there is little or no paper even of the first class passing through the hands of the brokers.

The Bords issued by the State of Missouri, in aid of seven Railroad Companies in that State, amounted to $24,950,000, of which $15,930,000 have been issued. Their current price in this market is about 65. A special tax will probably be levied to meet the interest ext falling due. All idea of repudiation is repudiated, but the Governor recommends that no more Bonds be issued at present rates.

A summary of the failures and suspensions in this country, since the 1st of August, makes the whole number 952, of which 448 were in New-York, 85 in Pennsylvania, 120 in Massachusetts, 40 in Ohio, 7 in Kentucky, 3 in Indiana, 2 in Washington City, 5 in Minnesota, 44 in Illinois, 6 in Maryland, 21 in Iowa, 23 in Michigan, 18 in Missouri, 23 in New-Jersey, 5 in Rhede Island, 24 in Wisconsin, and 58 in other States. The total liabilities of all these are estimated at $90,-000,000.

Annexed is a letter from the receiver of the Ontario Bank of Utica: RECEIVER'S OFFICE, ONTARIO BANK, ?

Utica, Oct. 21, 1857.

James Anderson, esq., Albany.—Dear Sir: Mr.
chison has handed to me your letter of the 19th inst. Johnson has handed to me your letter of the 19th inst. I cannot now redeem the notes of the late Ontario Bank; I mean these which were issued prior to the 1st January, 1856, and payable at Canandaigus or at the Branch here; and I regret to be obliged to add hat the condition of the affairs of the Bank is such that I cannot express any satisfactory opinion as to the ultimate payment of the notes from the assets in my hands. A large amount is in litigation, and of course I cannot say what the result will be. I am not at liberty to give the holders of the bills of the old bank a preference over other creditors. They must, as I am advised, be paid in the course of dividends. I redeem the bills of this Bank. Yours respectfully.

EDWARD A. WETMORE, Receiver.

BANK MEETING.

BANK MEETING.
CHARLESTON, Oct. 20, 1857.
A meeting was held at the Planters' and Mechanics'
Bank, at which the following banks were represented, viz: The Bank of the State of South Carolina, the South-Western Railroad Bank, the People's Bank, the Farmers' and Exchange Bank, the Bank of South Carolina, and the Planters' and Mechanics'.
The following preamble and resolutions were submitted to the meeting and adopted—the Bank of South Carolina dissenting:

Carolina discenting:

The suspension of the Banks here represented had become a matter of the greatest expediency, as well as of necessity, as the only means by which they could extend to their customers and the community that aid which was necessary to save them from the certain results of a further effort to maintain specie and the community that all which was necessary to acceptant from the certain results of a further effort to maintain specie payments.

That as a means by which we may be able to discount business paper and purchase produce exchange, a proper arrangement for the settlement of balances between the suspended hanks is now essential; therefore,

Recofeed, That all the non-specie paying banks agree to take in payments for all dues to them and on deposit from their customers the issues of each other.

Recofeed, That settlements shall be made on the Wednesday morning of each week. Each Bank shall send in by that time all bills or checks which they may hold; that after such an exchange, any balance aliable in the following Wednesday; that any balance over $5.000 shall be certised by credit in a book, payable the following Wednesday; and bearing interest at the rate of 5 $0 cert $4 sunnam.

2d. And will also receive, for dues to them and on deposit from customers, the issues of such of the country Banks of the State as shall be redeemable in city notes on demand, at some place in this city. And also the Issues of such of the Banks of Augusta and Savannah, Georgia, as may, from time to time, be considered astisfactory.

3d. And should it, at any time hereafter, be deemed inexpedient by any one or more of the Banks to take on deposit and receive, as aftereaft, the issues of any of the Banks, then notice shall be at once given to all the Banks to take on deposit and receive, as aftereaft as the Banks here represented pledge themselves.

shall be at once given to all the Banks that have assented to this arrangement.

Resolved, That the Banks here represented pledge themselves to abide by the article in the Charter of the Planters' and Mechanics' bank, which says?

SECTION & "It shall not be lawful for the said Bank, except in settlements with other Banks, to pay or deliver out in payment, or satisfaction of any demand upon it, or by way of loss or discount, any bill, note, check, or other paper of any other Bank. And for each and errey violation of this section, the said Bank shall be subject to the payment of one hundred delives, to be recovered by action of dett at the suit of the State, and sprepriate one half to the use of the State, and the other half to the informer."
